4. ABADINA MEDIA RESOURCE CENTRE: REQUEST FOR DONATION OF CHILDREN BOOKS AND NON-BOOK MEDIA TO THE CENTRE'S LIBRARY RESOURCE COLLECTION

Abadina Media Resource Centre was established by the University of Ibadan as a research and public service unit for schools and children's libraries. Its main objective is to create a national and international research centre for the development and management of learning resource materials at primary, secondary and tertiary levels of education and in both formal and non-formal education and to create a centre that will develop the reading culture of Nigerian children through acquisition of information literacy (basic library use) skills and regular use of organized multi-media resources in schools for both informational and recreative purposes.

The books and other media resources in this collection provides the resource-base for the centre's readership promotion programme for Nigerian children, such as: the annual seminar on reading organized for primary and secondary school pupils/students, the world book day and the school library month observed annually at the centre.

The Centre is hereby seeking donation of children's books and non-book media to enrich our collections and make our model library resource centre more attractive to the myriads of children that use our library services.

Your donation of books and other media resources would also assist towards the 2014 readership promotion programme of the centre for children and young adults. All donations will be duly acknowledged and documented among the list of learning resources for Nigerian children and young adults. Let us work together to get our children imbibe the reading culture (catch them young) and turn their faces to their books from the monotonous and non-beneficial "Facebook" arrest.
